

Unfortunately, due to several commitments we will be unable to attend council this month.

The past month has seen our Barony go through some sad times but has also seen some people shine with their generosity and compassion for others. It is acts such as these that will allow us to come together and so united, move forward.

As we slide into the winter months we look forward to our planning for next year.

Yule promises to be a grand birthday affair for His Excellency's half-century odometer roll-over and oil change. With a full feast and tournament it shall be a time to gather and reflect with our friends.

Work is still progressing on the 12th Night Site Tokens and we will need to re-double our efforts. We are approximately 1/4 finished but a lot of prep work is already done. Sewers (not the smelly pipes but people who can sew) are needed to help move us along, as well as donations of the cardboard backs from old binders that we are harvesting for this project.

Our plans for next year's war season will come together in December after we find out who the new coronets of Lions Gate are. Once that happens we can enter into negotiations with them regarding war points and Sealion war which happens upon their soil this year.

At that time it is our intention to commence an active war training regimen up until the Estrella War break where we will commence Tournament Training in preparation for Daffodil and Coronet which will be held here in Seagirt.

As always, none of these events can come off without an extensive amount of volunteers. Please, take the time to speak to these event organizers, go to their meetings, and offer what help you can.

This next year is our 10th Anniversary as a Barony. Rejoice, have fun, and we'll all share a drink before it's over.

The people of Seagirt continue to make us proud.

James and Glynis

Baron & Baroness of Seagirt.
